EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The President of the First National Bank here advises an immediate resumption of specie payment, on the ground that such action will add $80,000,000 to the positive relief of the money market.

The corridors of Fifth avenue Hotel were almost deserted to-night, forming a striking contrast to the scene of last Sabbath evening, when the hotel was crowded with an anxious and excited throng of bankers, brokers and merchants. The letter of President Grant and the favorable news from Chicago will no doubt exert a beneficial influence here to-morrow.

NEW YORK, Sept 29.—The week opens with a quiet and more cheerful feeling. Foreign exchange is dull, with sales of prime bankers' 60 days sterling, at 104¼@105. There is a liberal supply of grain bills offering. Gold is weak and lower, chiefly on account of the order of the Treasury to commence payment without rebate of the November interest and the cable reports of large shipments of gold. The Board of Directors, at their meeting this morning, matured a proposition to be submitted to the Clearing House Committee, and it is thought that something will be done to-day to "facilitate the movement of crops. The Executive Committee of the Gold Exchange has decided to close the Exchange hereafter at three o'clock.

The Governing Committee adjourned till 1:30 P. M., and referred the regulations respecting business to-morrow to a committee, with instructions to report this afternoon.

F[illegible] M[illegible]tters in the W[illegible]t.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The officers of the Boston and Charlestown Savings Bank have resolved to require notice of withdrawal by depositors, and at present they will only pay deposits for small amounts.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The Union National and Cook County National banks opened their doors and resumed business this morning. Nearly three millions of currency arrived here during Saturday and Sunday, a good portion of which went into the banks. The Third National and National Bank of Commerce promise a speedy resumption, and will probably open in a day or two. The banks of Louisville and St. Louis, and numerous smaller cities, have adopted the plan of certification of checks similar to the New York plan. The Clearing House Association of this city, however, have decided it inexpedient to adopt any such plan, but to have every bank stand upon its own resources. There is a strong belief in the minds of many that the worst is over.

Fire in B[illegible], Texas.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A Times special from Brenham, Texas, says a fire broke out last night in the store of Thomas Dyer, one of the wealthiest merchants here, and consumed the entire square. It reached the adjoining one, burned it entire, and one-half of the next. The firms burnt out are E. H. Abbott, F. P[illegible]h, Wood & Co., Warner Bro., Selly[illegible] & Bro., C. Marquets, Buck & Levy, H. Frank, G. S. Parker, and several bar-rooms, ten-pin alleys and restaurants.

WASHINGTON CITY.

[illegible] Grant to New York [illegible].

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The following letter was written to-day.

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, September 28th.

"Messrs. H. B. Claflin and Chas. L. Anthony—Gentlemen: In response to views you have communicated to me, with regard to using released currency to restore confidence and legitimate trade and commerce, I have the honor to communicate the following: The Government is desirous of doing all in its power to relieve the present unsettled condition of business affairs, which is holding back the immense resources of the country now awaiting transportation to the seaboard. A marked confidence on the part of the people is the first thing needed to relieve this condition and to avert a threatened destruction of business with its accompanying distress to all classes of people. To re-establish this feeling the Government is willing to take all legal measures at its command, but it is evident that no efforts will avail without the active co-operation of the banks and moneyed corporations of the country. With the $14,000,000 already paid out in the purchase of Government indebtedness and the withdrawal of large deposits from the Treasury, the banks are now strong enough to adopt a liberal policy on their part, and by a generous system of discounts to sustain the business interests of the country. Should such a course be pursued, the $44,000,000 of reserve will be considered as money in the Treasury to meet such demands of public necessities as the circumstances of the country may require. Close attention will be given to the course pursued by those having means at their command of rendering all aid necessary to restore trade to its proper channels and condition. Orders have already been issued for the prepayment of interest accruing November 1st.

(Signed.) "U. S. GRANT, President."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—United States coupons maturing November 1st will be paid on and after Monday, September 29th upon a rebate of interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The President and Secretary Richardson were in consultation to-day on financial matters.

Tare on Sandwich Island Sugars.

It having been ascertained from actual tests that the tare on sugar imported from the Sandwich Islands in kegs is 8¾ per cent., the Collectors are instructed to accept said per centage as proper allowance for tare on importations of this character.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Bombardment of Alicante—The Insurgents Withdraw.

MADRID, Sept. 27—Evening—The bombardment of Alicante was opened at 5 o'clock this (Saturday) morning, and 500 projectiles, some of which were filled with petroleum, were thrown into the city. Much damage was done and several edifices are in ruins. A vigorous fire was returned from the forts and batteries on shore with effect, for at the end of seven hours the rebel iron-clads slipped their cables and withdrew in a damaged condition. Minister Maizonane telegraphed at noon to-day that the bombardment had ended, and declared that it was a wanton outrage which should be held up to the reprobation of Europe. The men-of-war Vittoria and Almansa, recently released by the British, will be dispatched to the relief of Alicante.

MADRID, Sept. 29.—The Insurgent frigates Numancia and Mendez Nunez have left Alicante for Cartagena. The commander of the Numancia admits a serious loss of loss of life on his vessel during the bombardment of Alicante on Saturday. It is generally believed that the failure of the Insurgents to capture Alicante will cause an immediate surrender of Cartagena.

Thiers Will Go Into Politics.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A Times special dispatch from Paris says that M. Thiers, on his return to that city, was to assume the leadership of the party of the Left.

Death of Louise Muhlbach.

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—Louise Muhlbach, the celebrated German novelist, is dead.

From London.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The election for Lord Mayor to-day, resulted in the choice of Andrew Lusk, at present an Alderman and member of Parliament.

Communication between Penang and Singapore is interrupted.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—There was a large meeting at Drogheda yesterday in favor of the release of any Fenian prisoners. Several members of Parliament participated in the discussion.

Specie Shipments to New York.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Two hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds of bullion was shipped from Plymouth for New York on Saturday, and the steamship which sailed from Southampton the same day for New York, took out 16,000 pounds. Engagements have been made for the shipment of £50,000 by the steamer from Southampton to-morrow. It is said that £500,000 were booked for shipment this week. The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £638,000.

The Directors of the Bank of England have fixed the minimum rate of discount at five per cent. This announced increase in the rate caused much surprise in financial circles.

The failure of three brokers in consequence of the fall in Erie shares has been announced.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The name of the Chinaman murdered yesterday was Ah Foon. Only one of the murderers was taken.

Charles Santana was stabbed severely about midnight last night by two sailors of the ship Zephyr. He will probably recover.

W. F. Ensign who was arrested for burglary last night, came to this city as agent for a safe manufacturing company. He is reported as one of the most skillful safe men in the United States. He has a wife and grown up daughter living in this city. When he was arrested he had a complete assortment of burglar's tools in his possession.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Collection day in this city created no particular excitement in the money market. A little closeness in exchange and tightness of collections were the only marked features of the day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Salvador Ajuira and Leonardo Campos were arrested to-night for stabbing young Santana last night. John Ponnell was also arrested for a similar offense.

Samuel F. Levy, well known in this city, was arrested to-night on a warrant from Sacramento accusing him of obtaining money under false pretenses in that city.

Thomas Kelly alias Smith, was arrested to-night for having broken into and robbing the house of Fanny Vinton, a woman of ill repute.

Dr. B. Semig, who was wounded at the time of the massacre of Gen. Canby and Rev. Mr. Thomas by the Modocs, is still at the Presidio, and is now able to hobble about on crutches and a wooden leg.

The third annual horticultural exhibition of this city will open to-morrow night. Prof. Carr, of the State University, will deliver the opening address.

There are five cases of smallpox in the pest house, three of which are convalescent.

Ben Holladay has purchased the schooner Hera, to ply between this city and Portland.

The body of W. Packard, who was drowned last week in trying to reach the wreck of the Costa Rica, was picked up this afternoon by the crew of an incoming vessel.

Interior California.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—Freight train No. 2, going eastward, met with an accident between Roseville and Rocklin last night,—five cars leaving the track. The express train westward, was half an hour later in reaching Sacramento this afternoon.

Lieut. Fleming and sixty soldiers came through on to-day's train en route for Benicia.

Stanford's Occident was sent to San Jose this morning to be exhibited at the Fair.

The body found in the brush of China slough yesterday, was identified as Charles Sanders, who had been in the city about a week.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 29.—The first number of the Daily Argus, containing the latest telegraphic news, was issued this evening.

Many strangers are daily arriving who express themselves as favorably impressed with the appearance of this vicinity.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 29.—The fair of the Santa Clara Valley Society opened here to-day, and everything looks favorable for successful exhibition. The number of strangers in town is large, and the exhibition of stock attractive, particularly the racing department. All the fast flyers are already on the ground. Occident arrives this evening. The race to-day for a purse of $250 was won by Lady Hamilton. Time, 2:45¾, 2:46 and 2:44¼. To-morrow there will be a running race, for three year olds, purse $300; and a pacing race for second class pacers, purse $300.

COLUSA, Sept. 29.—An inquest was held on the body of the man found drowned near here yesterday. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. On his person was found $88, and a naturalization paper with the name of Thomas Lynd, from Yolo county, dated March, 1870. He was a British subject, and came from Maine to California. Also a pocket knife was found on him, on one side of which were the initials "W. D., 113," and on the other side there was a hand and the words, "from a friend." The body is supposed to be that of Robert Duncan, and has been decently buried.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—A meeting of the Board of Trustees called to consider the subject of the right of way of the Texas and Pacific railroad over the tide lands, passed a resolution unanimously indorsing the right of way as given, also requesting Governor Booth to enter an appearance in condemnation of the suit. There will be a citizens' mass meeting to-morrow night to approve of the resolutions.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—The special correspondent of the Union, writing from Tucson under date of 23d, says Hon. Mark Aldrich died and was buried on the 22d inst. with Masonic honors.

On the 17th inst. Lieutenant Rice attempted to arrest a notorious bad Apache, who murdered a sutler at Camp Apache, and whom the Indians say has murdered four whites and five Indians—one his brother. When the arrest was ordered he drew his knife and stabbed John M. Logan and slightly wounded George Ressel. At this juncture Geo. H. Stevens, acting agent at the reserve, and Gallegas, an interpreter, killed the murderer instantly.

Lieutenant Eckerson is en route from Camp Apache to Yuma, with seven Apache prisoners, who have been ordered to confinement by Maj. Randall. The military authorities at Camp Grant intend to turn over to civil authorities one of the Indian murderers of Lieut. Almy.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—Private advices from Fort Yuma say that private Cassels of the Twenty-third Infantry, being a prisoner, attempted to escape and was shot and instantly killed on the 24th inst., at Fort Yuma, by Corporal Hammond, of the Post guard.

Fifteen miles of military telegraph have been completed east from Yuma. This is considered good work, as the thermometer averaged 109° since the work commenced.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 29.—The financial situation is greatly improved, and the feeling of panic is apparently completely subsided. The First National Bank, which suspended on Saturday, is strengthening its resources, and will undoubtedly resume business in a few days.

The National Bank examiner, N. R. Langford, for the Pacific coast, is here examining the affairs of banks.

H. Wadsworth has become Agent of Wells Fargo & Co.

The tightness of the money market is likely to cripple business in bullion and ores for a few weeks, compelling a suspension of the smelters.

NEVADA.

EUREKA, Sept. 29.—In a row this morning Ed Brown stabbed Frank Lamotte four times with a large blade of a pocket knife. The wounds are not dangerous. Brown has been arrested.

The London Builder says: We understand a project will be brought before the British Association for the Advancement of Science for engines and carriages to be constructed with a single row of central wheels, ranged a la bicycle, to travel on a single line of rails. The advantages claimed for it are economy in construction, easier motion, greater safety, and the facility which it offers for rapidly extending railway communication at home and abroad.

LETTER FROM CARIBOO

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

CARIBOO, WILLIAMS CREEK, B. C., Sept. 18, 1873.

YALE TO CARIBOO.

The wagon road from Yale, the head of navigation on the Fraser river to Cariboo, a distance of 400 miles, is one of the best mountain roads on the American continent. The road is built through the great canyons of the Fraser and Thompson rivers for 150 miles, the scenery of which for variety, beauty, boldness and grandeur surpasses the upper Columbia. The headlands of these canyons reach from one thousand to five thousand feet above the bed of these rivers, the precipices from the edge of the road to the rivers are from fifty to thirteen hundred feet, almost perpendicular. The rays of the rising or setting sun falling on these magnificent mountain heights, or descending into these vast canyons, is inspiring. The Fraser river above Yale is narrow and deep, the Thompson river is about the same breadth; both have numerous rapids, and the current in many places is swift and powerful. The mountains are covered with scattering fir to the highest points; and although the elevation of the road from Yale to the summit, a distance of 300 miles, is 5,000 feet, yet the grade is so comparatively easy that stages can make an average of five miles an hour.

The suspension bridge crossing the Fraser river, thirteen miles above Yale, is one of great beauty and strength. The span is 200 feet, the elevation is a hundred feet above the bed of the river, and the water of the river is more than a hundred feet deep. The bridge was built as a private enterprise by the present Lieutenant-Governor, at a cost of $50,000, for which he got from the Government, the exclusive right to levy tolls for seven years, by which he realized a large amount. This bridge is the connecting link between the west and east side of the Fraser river, and forms part of the Cariboo public road, which road has been free of tolls for the last two years.

The Fraser and Thompson rivers have their rise in the Rocky Mountains; the former is 900 miles long, and the latter about 500 miles, and have forced their way through the Cascade range. This range of mountains is distinguished for its valuable bunch grass and raising fine stock. The cattle raised on the upper part of the Cascade range are remarkable for their size, the tenderness and delicious flavor of the meat, the same is applicable to sheep and mutton. In no part of the United States can finer meat be had than that raised in the upper part of the Cascade range. This business has been very profitable, at present it is depressed; the supply exceeds the demand, and prices are reduced from a third to a half of last year's rates.

From the mouth of the Fraser river to the head of the valley of Thompson river, Lillooet, Clinton and the 150 Mile House, are bottom lands and prairies of as fine agricultural lands, and as productive soil as the average of the best part of the Willamette Valley, and some parts equal to its choicest farms. On the lower Fraser, such fruits as apples, pears and plums are raised in large quantities and to great perfection. Notwithstanding the large quantity and fine quality of fruit raised there, the people of Victoria prefer importing their fruit from San Francisco. "Far off birds have fine feathers." Anything imported sounds well in the ears of many. There is a limited demand at the Cariboo mines for the fruit raised on the lower Fraser, but the distance is great and freights expensive. Apples and pears retail there for twenty-five cents each and plums for $1 a pound. The farmers of the upper country are dependent almost entirely for their market on the mines, stage companies, teamsters and hotels. When the mines are paying well, all other interests are prosperous; when the mines are unprofitable, all other business and occupations suffer accordingly. All kinds of farm produce raised within a reasonable distance of the mines, pay a large profit. Hay sells from $80 to $90 a ton, wheat, oats and barley sell from 3½ to 5 cents a pound, other productions in proportion.

MINING.

The banks of the Fraser river afford striking evidence of the extensive mining carried on there when the great rush took place in 1858-9. From 1858 to 1862, there were not less than $10,000,000 gold taken out of the Fraser, its banks and tributaries. There is still some mining carried on there but it is principally by Chinamen who are satisfied with small earnings. The discovery of gold in the Cariboo district, in 1861-2, caused another great "rush" to Williams Creek, which proved one of the richest diggings, for the extent of it in modern times. From 1862 to 1864, there were 7,000 of a population on a portion of that creek, not exceeding four miles in length. From 1862 to this date, a period of eleven years, more than $15,000,000 of gold have been taken out of that famous creek and its tributary creeks and gulches. The surface diggings on that creek are comparatively exhausted, and deep sinking has been resorted to since 1868. There are five or six of such claims still paying; and several hydraulic claims, on the upper end of the creek, in successful operation. There is little doubt, in the minds of many intelligent miners, that there will be a large amount of gold taken out of Williams Creek, as soon as strong companies are organized that can put up machinery sufficiently powerful to control the water.

LANE & KURTZ CLAIM,

Located on the lower end of Williams Creek is an interesting example of this kind. Large sums of money have been expended by former companies to master the water, but all in vain. Lane & Kurtz have laid out nearly $200,000 in erecting the necessary buildings and putting in powerful machinery. If they succeed in controlling the water the claim will prove a fortune to all interested; introduce a new era in mining in Cariboo and stimulate prospecting and mining on a large scale.

LIGHTNING CREEK,

However, is the great center of the mining interest at present in Cariboo. The "Point," "Victoria" and "Vancouver" mines are yielding an average of 250 oz. each a week and paying an average weekly dividend of $400 a share. There are several other claims being prospected that are as hopeful as the former are successful. There is every reasonable expectation of many years of successful mining operations in Cariboo. Many intelligent miners say that prospecting in the Cariboo district has yet to be commenced, and that profitable and permanent mining is only in its infancy. These statements seem reasonable to those who have visited the country and given the subject reasonable attention, but to accomplish this capital and machinery are essential requisites.

THE MINING CAMPS

Of Van Winkle and Stanley on Lightning Creek, are scenes of great activity and indicate permanent prosperity. The miners are in good spirits in consequence of the prosperous state of so many of the claims and full of hope with regard to others that are being steadily prospected. Numerous cottages and comfortable cabins are being built by the miners. The creek for two miles presents the appearance of unusual cheerfulness and prosperity. Working miners are paid $6 a day in wet claims and $5 a day in dry claims. Chinamen are employed to a limited extent at $3 a day. There are about a thousand miners in the whole district of Cariboo, and probably 750 Chinamen. There is no occasion for a rush; the supply is equal to the demand. The mining camps get their principal supplies from

BARKERVILLE.

This town is built on Williams Creek. When that creek was yielding its thousands of ounces of gold daily, Barkerville was a scene of constant excitement, extensive and profitable business. As the mines went down, business and profits diminished. Now it is settled down to a quiet, steady trade, supplying mining camps at hand and more or less remote with their requirements.

The merchants of Barkerville will compare favorably with the same class of men on the Pacific coast for enterprise, business capacity and mercantile integrity. The general character of the miners, as I saw them, is favorable for their intelligence and perseverance in the midst of many difficulties. Had the miners who were successful on Fraser river, and on Williams creek in Cariboo, been prudent and economical in the days of their prosperity thousands of them would now be living in affluence that are to-day in poverty.

THE GREAT WANT OF MINING CAMPS

Is a greater number of respectable women. Had the majority of the miners been married men and their wives accompanied them, or followed them as soon as gold was got in paying quantities, there would to-day have been many a prosperous and happy family where now reigns solitude and misery. In Cariboo, the difficulties in the way of women going there are considerable. The distance is great; the cost of traveling is considerable, and was, up till lately, very expensive, the summers are short, and the winters are long, cold and dreary. But where there is a will there is a way.

BARNARD & COMPANY'S EXPRESS STAGES

Add immeasurably to the comfort and pleasure of the trip. They run through from Yale to Williams creek, 400 miles, in eighty running hours, or four days and a half, allowing time for sleep and meals. This Company's stages, horses and drivers were not surpassed in the best days of staging in the United States. They have laid the miners and the traveling public under lasting obligations by the completeness of their establishment, and the admirable spirit and manner in which it is carried out in all its details. To those who want to enjoy a 400-mile drive on the best mountain road, in the most comfortable and complete stage line, accompanied with time for rest and excellent meals, through the most varied and magnificent scenery on this continent, from Yale to Cariboo is the place, and September is the choice month of the year for such a trip.

SOMETHING REMARKABLE.

From the first discovery of gold in British Columbia to this date, not an express, public or private, or a stage, or a wagon, has been robbed or even attempted to be injured during a period of fifteen years, although not less than $40,000,000 have been brought down from the mines to Victoria for shipment. The reason is simple and easily told. Judge Bigbey, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, followed the mining camps and held his Courts regularly. Crime was no sooner committed than the criminal was detected and the punishment, to the extreme penalty of the law, was sure and swift. He and his Associate Justices were like bloodhounds on the heels of all criminals. They were a "terror to evil doers." The results are, that in no part of the British Dominions is life more sacred and property more safe than in British Columbia. Indians and Chinamen are as amply protected in their rights as white men, and as promptly and severely punished for crime. They have peace in all their borders. Shooting Indians like crows and stoning Chinamen like dogs are not profitable. It is no exageration to say that Judge Bigbey has saved British Columbia from anarchy, and secured to every good citizen and householder a peaceful home and a country comparatively free from crime. But Judge Bigbey is not an elective Judge; he did not buy his position for $5,000 or $10,000, with a view of making $20,000 or $30,000 by the office. He got his appointment from the Crown for life, because of his eminent fitness, with a liberable salary that makes him independent of the Crown or people. Political service is not one of the necessary qualifications for an English Judge or a Justice of the Peace.

CONCERT AT OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Sept. 25, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Concert given at Columbia Hall last night, was one of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in this city. The object sought to be attained was the purchase of an organ for the Congregational Church, and it seems to have been quite a success financially and otherwise, the amount received probably reaching $90, which was as much as could be expected after being so lately visited by the circus, Anna Bishop, Laura Stevenson and other troupes, and our city being financially depressed at present. The programme was a varied one and as each selection was rendered, was loudly applauded. Selections from "Lucrezia Borgia," a piano arrangement for four hands was well rendered by Mrs. Morgan, Miss Parker, and Mr. Hale White, who accompanied on the cornet, and was followed by Mrs. DePrans, who sang "Beatrix," and made herself a general favorite in a short time, not only by her rich vocal powers, but also in her instrumental performance of a piano and organ duet afterward with Mr. DePrans, which met with a hearty encore. After a quartette sung very sweetly by Mrs. Morgan, Miss Huntington, Messrs. O'Brien and Cowles, and accompanied on the organ by Prof. Roberts, an operatic selection was performed by Mrs. Muse, teacher of music in the Female Seminary, which exhibited a thoroughly artistic training. The trio, sung by the Glee Club, consisting of Messrs. O'Brien, Hayden and Tuttle, was as usual good, and unnecessary to be commented on. The most delightful feature of the entertainment was an extemporaneous production by Mr DePrans on the Burdett Combination Organ which he kindly brought here for this occasion, and was loudly encored, but that gentleman being rather bashful could not be induced to appear a second time; however, he will not get off so easy at our next concert provided he uses the Combination Organ for it is little to say that our musical ears are spoiled after listening to the lovely strains of the Perfectione Stop when used with the Vox Humana, and comparing them with our church organs here. However, it is very plain that the Burdett organs are coming into very general use in our Territory, and richly they deserve the name they have got.

The organ solo was followed by "Waiting," sung very sweetly by Miss O'Brien; an operatic selection, well rendered by Mrs. Morgan and Miss Jessie Lowe, duet, "When night comes o'er the plains, by Mrs. DePrans and Mr R. O'Brien, in which their voices blended most pleasingly, a cornet obligato, by Mr. White, with piano accompaniment by Prof. Roberts, in which Mr. White showed his proficiency as a cornet player and second to none in the Territory. After the singing of another beautiful selection by Mrs. DePrans, the concert concluded with the singing of a sacred quartet, and everybody went home well pleased with the entertainment, and hoping soon to have another to attend equally as good.

After the performance all those who had taken part in the entertainment repaired to Mrs. Capt. Parker's, where a sumptuous lunch was provided, which was done justice to by all present. It is very gratifying to find our townspeople always ready to respond so promptly to calls for the benefit of religious institutions, and it proves that the good work is still progressing in our midst.

Alexandra Palace which was burned down a few months ago, is to be rebuilt at once. The new palace is to be larger than the old building, being both longer and broader. It is to have three transepts one forming a concert-hall another a theatre, and the third is it is stated to be devoted to bazar purposes. In some respects the new building will resemble the Crystal Palace, it having been decided that iron and glass shall be largely used in the construction of the building.

Twenty eight years ago a Buffalo man said to his wife "Miranda, I'm going down to fin[illegible] after a bed-cord." That was the last seen of him until the other day, when he entered the house with a bed-cord and said he'd fix that bed now.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.

SEVENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

First Day.

MONDAY, September 29, 1873.

The seventh annual Fair of the Washington County Agricultural Society opened this morning, on the Grounds half a mile west of Hillsboro, with calm, pleasant and bright weather and under other circumstances peculiarly propitious. The farmers of the county are, as a class, men of energy and of a progressive character, who are not content with the improvement which barely affords subsistence, but are going ahead in all that makes agriculture what the father of his country claimed for it, "the noblest employment of mankind." They have also just gathered the most abundant harvest ever produced in the county, and are receiving a pecuniary reward for their season's toil, much more encouraging than usual. These things have induced a cheerful spirit, and a smile of content seems to rest upon their toil-worn brows. But we digress.

THE FAIR GROUNDS

Are well selected for the purposes of exhibitions by the Society, being convenient to the depot of the Oregon Central railroad, the cars of which pass four times daily. The surrounding country is of fine agricultural lands, well improved. Immediately on the grounds are several wells, dug by the Society, which affords an unfailing and abundant supply of clear cold water. The improvements on the grounds are not such as one would desire, but the Society is not numerous in members, and we are informed that the endeavor to keep out of debt has prevented them from making some very desirable additions, which they will erect before next fall if the present exhibition should be as prosperous as appearances to-day would indicate. For truly

THE FAIR OPENS

Auspiciously, and we are informed that in point of interest it much surpasses those of former years. The attendance, it is true, is not large. There is no crowding and jamming of people, hunting for room to sit down or a place large enough to turn around. There is space abundant for the few hundreds that are present.

THE PRESIDENT,

Robert Imbrie, Esq., is moving quietly here and there, directing affairs, and seems to understand his business thoroughly, treating the numerous applicants for information, who sometimes crowd their inquiries upon him, with all proper courtesy and respect. He is a very fit man for the position which he fills.

The Secretary, Mr. C. M. Raymond, is also a worker, and during the entire day has been busily occupied in recording

THE ENTRIES,

Of which there have been near four hundred made to-day. A great many patrons of the Fair are present to-day, more for the purpose of entering articles for exhibition than for seeing the sights. The various articles intended for exhibition on the grounds and in the pavilion are also being arranged for the delight and encouragement of the large number of visitors who are expected during the week.

IN THE PAVILION

The show of vegetables, fruits, grain and flowers is already quite creditable, and Tuesday's arrivals are expected to add many and large attractions to this department. Here also

THE LADIES

Are standing side by side with their husbands, fathers and brothers in the encouragement of progression in the useful and the beautiful. There is already on hand a large quantity of preserved fruits, jams, jellies, etc., etc., and several fine specimens of fancy needle work, hair work and painting. We might particularize and point out the beauties in them one by one, but will defer that part until all the entries for the fair are made, and the articles can all be properly classified.

THE HORSES,

Animals of which the average Oregonian is always fond and which he always places in the forefront of an Agricultural show, are not so numerous here as usual, though the display is by no means a poor one, and if we are to judge by the race hereafter noticed, there are some here which would not be far behind when some of the famous "flyers" of older countries reach the "home flag." We can only speak particularly now of those which were entered for exhibition

ON THE TURF

To-day. The first was a single dash of one mile—fastest running horse, mare or gelding, for all Oregon bred, for a premium of $150 for the first and $75 for the second. There were three entries for this race. Wm. White entered Henry Welch, b. h.; James Bybee entered Confidence, b. h.; Nath. Westfall entered Gazelle, g. m. The track was entirely too dusty for any horse to make his best time, the pulverized earth being of an average depth of about three inches. The race was announced for one o'clock P. M., but the horses did not get off till twenty-five minutes later. The pools sold were few in number, "Confidence" being the favorite by about three to one against "Henry Welch," and five to one against "Gazelle." The judges chosen were James Imbrie, Thomas Harris and John Ladd. The horses made their appearance on the track all in seemingly good condition, and "ready for business." "Gazelle," a very finely formed, lithe and spirited gray mare, got the inside. "Confidence," a beautiful bay, got the middle, and "Henry Welch," another elegant bay, the outside track. From the time the horses came on the track the gray was intolerably restless, and it required two men to hold her while her rider mounted, and numerous prophesies were made that her "fire" would beat her in the race. The two bays were quiet as lambs until their riders were up and their heads turned for

THE START.

As they passed the starting point the bays were almost neck and neck, while the gray was about three lengths behind. "Henry Welch" gained just perceptibly on "Confidence" almost from the start, but it was seen that he must keep up a lively jump to win, which he did by about a length of daylight behind him, the gray being still in the rear of "Confidence" about sixty feet, she having had the dust thrown in her eyes all the way round. The time of "Henry Welch," the winner of the first premium, was 1:52¼, which was thought rapid going considering the condition of the track.

THE TROTTING RACE,

Which had been announced to come off at 2 o'clock, was indefinitely postponed as a rule of the Society required that to take the premium offered the winning horse must beat 2:45, a feat which "scrubs" should not rashly undertake, and as the Directors did not see fit to suspend the rule some regular trotters concluded to stay at home, which would otherwise have added their presence to the attractions of the Fair. The decision of the Directors in the matter was commented on considerably during the day, and some dissatisfaction expressed, though it would seem that the time allowed ought to have satisfied any pretentious horse.

WALKING MATCH.

At 3 o'clock, as per programme, the contest for the premium offered for the best walking horse came off with three entries. P. Smith named sorrel horse Jack, R. Freeman named bay horse Charley, and J. McClernand named iron gray horse Young Bulwer. Jack and Charley did some good honest walking, and got home in 11 minutes and 35 seconds while Young Bulwer, in a sort of stuffling pace, came in about three seconds quicker, but lost the race, Jack winning the first and Charley the second premium, and closing the races for to-day.

CATTLE, SHEEP, ETC.

The number of cattle on the grounds is not great, but in point of excellence and beauty those present will compare favorably with any exhibition we have ever seen. We will notice this department more fully when the entries are closed and the premiums awarded, but would here call the especial attention of all who may visit the Fair to the really splendid cattle owned by Mr. S. G. Reed. We are assured by competent judges that some of these, for blood, build and beauty, cannot be excelled in any country in the world. Washington county is highly favored in having such stock in her borders, and their keeper, Mr. Watson, will be pleased to show them to all who may wish to see what can be done by careful breeding in the case of this useful class of animals. Some other very fine cattle are also present.

There are also some fine blooded sheep to be seen, and others expected to arrive.

RESTAURANTS—AMUSEMENTS—SHOPS, ETC.

As usual on such occasions there are a number of places where visitors may, for the "equivalent," get an hour's amusement, a cigar, tobacco, cider, soda water, cakes, pies, melons or anything else in the fruit or confectionery line, or a square meal. Phil. Saunders, well known to Portlanders, and who knows how to cater to the inner man, has an eating establishment on the ground, and sets a first rate table. Messrs. Cushman & Quivey and Mr. T. F. Fields also have ample arrangements to accommodate the hungry public.

Those dealing in confectioneries, fruits, cigars, etc., are Messrs. A. C. Brown, Pickett & Boies, L[illegible] Bros., K. A[illegible] & D[illegible], G. H[illegible], [illegible]ner, Cushman & Quivey, W. Stewart, R. K. Johnson, John Donovan, N. E. Goodell, E. A. Kramer. Three swings are run by M. Pixley & Voss, R. D. Malone and E. N. Hale, respectively, and three photograph galleries are opened under the control of Messrs. Lewis & Crouse, Duvall & Hall and L. Larone. Charles Holder has an Arctic soda fountain in full blast, and G. A. Steel & Co., an assorted stock of pictures and musical instruments for sale. C. Tichner runs a regular barber shop near the Pavilion, and Geo. Tuttle tempts the crowd with a glittering stock of jewelry.

The town of Hillsboro is favored with the presence of Reed's Panorama and Fulford's Rosedale Dramatic Troupe, both of which will entertain the people nightly during the week, or until the Fair closes. Wilson's Circus is expected to-morrow on the grounds, and will make things more lively, as the article of music is one that is much missed, and Wilson's band will furnish rather more of it than was afforded by the jewsharp "captured" by a young man from Portland at the stand of Messrs. Steel & Co. to-day.

PROGRAMME FOR TUESDAY.

At 10 o'clock it is announced that the opening address will be delivered by the President of the Society.

Eleven o'clock A. M.—Best saddle horse.

One o'clock P. M.—The fastest running horse, mare or gelding, free for all, mile heats, 2 in 3.

Two o'clock P. M.—plowing match.

Three o'clock P. M.—Trial of draft animals.

Four o'clock P. M.—Single carriage horse.

Half past four P. M.—Double carriage team.

THIRD DAY—WEDNESDAY.

The Superintendents and Judges of the different classes will meet at the Pavilion at 9 o'clock A. M. and receive from the Secretary a list of the entries made, proceed to examine the same and award the premiums.

One o'clock P. M.—The fastest running horse, mare or gelding, two years old, one-half mile and repeat; first premium, $100; second, $50.

Two o'clock P. M.—Shooting match; first premium, $10; second, $5.

FOURTH DAY—THURSDAY.

Ten o'clock A. M.—Parade of all animals that have been awarded premiums under direction of the Marshal.

Eleven o'clock A. M.—Reading list of awards of premiums.

One o'clock P. M.—The fastest running horse, mare or gelding, mile heats, 3 in 5, free for anything.

Three P. M.—Most graceful and accomplished lady rider.

This will close the Fair, which from present indications will be the most

PROSPEROUS

One the Society ever held, and enable it to clear itself of debt, make needed improvements on the grounds and offer larger premiums for merit in all industrial pursuits next year.

The receipts at the gate up to three o'clock, this, the first day, nearly double the amount received on the first day of last year's Fair. The entries already made are nearly four hundred in number, but the amount of entrance money cannot be correctly obtained to-day.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS.

John A. Parker, ex-president of the Great Western Insurance Company, for a long time a prominent member of the New York Board of Underwriters, and very conspicuous in the prosecution of the Alabama claims, died at his home, Saturday, from an attack of paralysis. He left in manuscript a volume entitled "The origin, progress and consummation of the Treaty of Washington.

PITTSBURG, PA., Sept. 13.—An accident occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Wilmore last night, causing the death of one man and seriously injuring several other. A freight train coming East was put on a side track before the switch could be turned. Another freight train bound east ran into it. Just at the moment the Philadelphia express, a passenger train east, came along, and a frightful disaster was barely avoided. Three locomotives were demolished, and several freight-cars smashed. William Green, engineer, was instantly killed, and the fireman of the eastern-bound train badly wounded.

NEW IBERIA, LA., Sept. 13.—The parish of Vermillion has been for years infested with cattle thieves. The people have been unable to obtain redress by process of law, and last month they organized a vigilance committee as a final resort. Notice was given to a large number of thieves and their confederates that they must leave the parish within a specified time, but instead of doing so they armed themselves and threatened to destroy the town of Abbeyville, whereupon the vigilants pressed them and they scattered. It is reported that three of the gang were hanged on Friday, the 5th instant. On Wednesday, the 10th instant, one of the party of thieves, in endeavoring to escape, was arrested under a civil process at Brashear, and, while en route to the place, was taken from the steamer by a squad of armed men, and hanged in front of Dr. Dangion's residence, three miles above that town. All kinds of vague rumors are afloat here concerning the number executed, but no positive information can be obtained.

A MILITARY DINNER.—Gen. Lee, grave man that he was, greatly enjoyed the "sell" which a wag on his staff palmed off upon a reporter, who promptly inserted it in the papers. The reporter wanted to know General Lee's hour for dining. "Six o'clock—exactly at six," was the reply. "I infer, then, that it is rather a formal meal?" "Decidedly formal—in fact, I may say it is a rigidly military dinner." "Military! how military?" "Well, you see General Lee sits at the head of the table, and Colonel Chilton at the foot, and everything is done in red-tape style." "Red tape at table? I don't understand you. Please explain." "Certainly. General Lee never carves and never helps—all that is left to Colonel Chilton—but General Lee asks the guests what they will have, they tell him, then he issues his orders, and Colonel Chilton executes them. That's all." "Go on, go on!" opening his note-book. "Give me an example—tell me exactly how it is done." "Suppose, then, that we have beef—we generally have beef. Grace is said by the chaplain, then Gen. Lee raps on the table with the handle of his knife and says, 'attention!' Everybody is silent. Every one is turned toward Gen. Lee. He looks at one of us—me, for example—and I rise and make military salute. 'Captain C——, what will you be helped to?' says Gen. Lee. I say, 'Beef,' make another salute and sit down. Gen. Lee, fixing his eye on Col. Chilton, says, 'Beef, for Capt. C——.' My plate is passed, helped, and then Col. Chilton, handing it to the servant, say, 'Beef for Capt. C——. By order of Gen. Lee. R. H. Chilton, A. A. G.'" And this absurd story went the rounds of the Southern papers.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1873.

REV. E. R. GEARY AGAIN.

We suppose that Mr. Geary has authorized the publication of extracts from two of his private letters which are at present going the rounds of the press. The Albany Register of last week publishes the following, taken from a letter written by Mr. Geary on the 24th inst. to Charles Handley, Esq., of Yamhill county, which we commend to the careful scrutiny of such of our readers as may delight in the solution of enigmas:

The resolution of endorsement, as you are pleased to term it, I do not regard as a part of the platform, nor at all binding the candidate to its defense. When I saw it first, on the evening of its adoption, I declared it "essentially offensive to, and calculated to embarrass the [illegible] of the convention;" so I wrote to my friend in Portland; and so, for obvious reasons, I believe to-day. Hence I declined an [illegible] unanimous nomination in the face of [illegible] failure threatening to disorganize and [illegible] the party. I could only be understood by declining the nomination. This conclusion [illegible] and instantaneous; but mature [illegible] declares it right.

For our own part, in reading the above extract we were forcibly reminded of the witty Frenchman's sarcasm, that "words were invented to conceal thoughts." If we may [illegible] a rash guess, we will say that Mr. Geary wants the people of [illegible] to understand that he declined [illegible] nomination of the Albany Convention [illegible] constructions [illegible] placed upon his opaque verbosity: [illegible] that he could not degrade his white [illegible] nor hush the rebuke of conscience, [illegible] accepting the nomination on a platform [illegible] at variance with his holy profession; or, second, that he was intimidated through his own fear of defeat and [illegible] of his friends. The unpartial reader is at liberty to accept either [illegible] interpretations. If he accept [illegible], he will find ample opportunity [illegible] of that [illegible] which suffering and is loved. If he [illegible] the [illegible] he will wish for the sake of Mr. [illegible] manhood that he had [illegible] this letter. We will not say [illegible] has been all this while [illegible] the real point at issue, nor that [illegible] are equivocations of a [illegible] worthy himself and humiliating [illegible]. We have [illegible] to a [illegible] for the reverend gentlemen, [illegible] in writing letters on the [illegible] we must beg him [illegible] in plain, [illegible] An[illegible].

Wait and see.

[illegible] OF FORT GARRY AND HIS FALL.

[illegible] squabble is at an end. [illegible] of the Minnesota press [illegible] commenta[illegible] the peaceful solution of what [illegible] (if we could be[illegible] denunciations of [illegible] serious differ[illegible] our Government and Great [illegible]. In fact, however, there never [illegible] reasonable ground for [illegible] in this regard. [illegible] to the excited appeals [illegible] Secretary Fish steadily [illegible] to make the imprison[illegible] of the offending detectives a matter [illegible] negotiation. He was al[illegible] ready to interpose his good offices to [illegible] the rigors of close confinement might be prevented, and to his [illegible] with Thornton, doubtless, [illegible] be attributed the final result.

[illegible] trial of the American detectives [illegible] with the abduction of Lord Gordon Gordon opened at Fort Garry Sep[illegible] 16th. Indictments had been pre[illegible] against Hoy, Keegan, Bentley and Fletcher, severally and separately. When the [illegible] former were arraigned they entered pleas of guilty. In Bentley's case counsel for the defense reviewed the whole history of the alleged offense, setting forth that the attempt to capture his lordship fugitive had been made under legal advice to the effect that the bail bond was a valid warrant for the arrest of Gordon Gordon on Manitoban soil. Counsel prayed for the leniency of the Court. In reply, the Attorney General of Manitoba said that he had no desire other than that the majesty of the law be maintained. His speech was conciliatory in tone, and differed [illegible] from his former energetic denunciation of the prisoners. Hoy and Keegan, who were principals in the affair, [illegible] of the law as expounded by his lordship the Justice, and in their turn asked for a merciful sentence. The three men were then sentenced to twenty-four hours imprisonment. Thus ends the Manitoba squabble with shaking of hands and the restoration of these valorous detectives to the proud embrace of tearful Minnesota.

In the meanwhile, how fares the hero of all this international broil and tumult? Sadly, behind the bars of Winnipeg prison. From prudential motives, this magnificent fraud plunged into the pathless woods of the great Northwest, mindful of his own personal liberty. An exciting chase followed. Through the wilderness, over lake and mountain and river he sped, while close on his trail with the ceaseless vigilance of a sleuth-hound followed a detective whose authority for making the arrest of his fugacious lordship was unquestioned. Five hundred miles west of Fort Garry Gordon Gordon surrendered, his desperate resolve failing at the last moment. It affords the champions of the new doctrine of bail bonds intense satisfaction to know that the bold adventurer is now incarcerated, awaiting his trial on an indictment for forgery and perjury. The kidnapped noble has been caught in his own meshes. When he has received a just penalty for his crimes it will be time to look back upon his strange career and smile at this tempest in a teapot. We foresee one benefit to issue therefrom: special detectives inspired with a wholesome awe of the common law will, in the future, take necessary precautions against a repetition of the Manitoba squabble.

A STITCH IN TIME.

We are glad that our virtuous cotemporary, who is now engaged in the pious [illegible] of commending seduction, adultery, bigamy and larceny to the mothers and daughters of Oregon, has challenged us to an introspective glance. It tells us how "with the most intense rancor and devilish malignancy" we have been pursuing that timid quarry, Senator John Hipple-Hiram Mitchell, until he was forced, more in sorrow than in anger, to peck the Albany Convention. We see it all now, but too late! The chariot-wheels may not be stayed, even though they crush a bigamous Senator and his idolaters in their resistless march. And when the Bulletin tells us of our "hypocrisy," we call to mind a maxim of Rochefoucauld: "Hypocrisy is a sort of homage that vice pays to virtue." Wouldn't our cotemporary be pleased to tell the dear people how the "vice" of the OREGONIAN persecutes the Christian "virtue" of the San Luis Obispo Fourth-of-July orator? Or mayhap it would delight to dwell on this glowing theme: how John H. Mitchell petitioned our majestic County Court to involve (not change) the name of Hipple into Mitchell, which that dignitary did successfully. The thundering plaudits of that school ma'am were wanting. While we're talking about "hypocrisy" and things gentle, will the Bulletin kindly remark what ever became of the gay damsel who put her hand so trustfully in his, remarking "We have ducats; let us away"? No authentic narrative has ever been published on this point. Let the Bulletin, as the mouthpiece of Senator Mitchell, supply this hiatus in a narrative otherwise complete.

A [illegible]'S OPINION.

It will be seen by the following leading editorial article, entitled "Politics in Oregon," in the Sacramento (Cal.) Union of Sept. 23d, that the merits of the issue now before the people of Oregon are pretty thoroughly understood in our sister State:

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." The truth of this old adage is well illustrated in the case of the present management of the Republican party machinery in Oregon. The State Convention of that party recently in session in Albany adopted a resolution affirming that "the Republican party and the majority of the people of Oregon have entire confidence in the integrity, ability and patriotism of John H. Mitchell, notwithstanding his d[illegible]ful record in the past, and with [illegible] effrontery they point to his career in Oregon as a satisfactory atonement for his offenses in Pennsylvania. They are great enough to demand atonement by a long life of good deeds. Such a life should be one of seclusion and humility. But this modern statesman could not bury his talent. He sneaked off from his old home and turned up in a new country with a new name. From plain John Hipple he had expanded into John H. Mitchell, Esq. A smooth tongue and a smiling face gained him many friends. To show how true it is that "patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel," he became a devoted patriot, and was quite willing to sacrifice all his wife's relatives in defense of the Union. By talking long and loud about liberty and the flag, he won a seat in the State Senate. As a law-maker he helped to pass a code in which bigamy is made an infamous offense, punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary. Then to show how much he respected law and how completely he had reformed, he married a second wife while still undivorced from the first. That he is not now expiating his sins in another sphere he owes solely to the operation of the statute of limitations—his offense being unknown until after two years had expired. He found the Republican party of Oregon high in the confidence of the people, and by a persistent course of trickery in the management of primaries, in the purchase of votes, and in corrupting the legislature, he and his fellows of the ring have utterly demoralized the party and disgusted the people. In 1860, he formed a ring of the most unscrupulous politicians in that State with a view to electing himself to the United States Senate. In Multnomah, the principal county, he carried the Union primaries by packing them with Democratic voters, and then opposing and defeating a resolution prescribing the usual party test, to exclude those who had not voted for Lincoln. He was ultimately defeated by the farmers, and it was thought the party was rid of him. But soon after Ben Holladay and his railroad speculating schemes appeared upon the scene, and he very naturally selected our hero to aid him in squeezing subsidies out of the people. As a railroad attorney Mitchell was an eminent success. In 1870 he prepared a bill for a subsidy of $300,000 from the city of Portland, a town of but 10,000 inhabitants, ostensibly to aid the construction of a local railroad, but really to reimburse Holladay for his election expenses; and although it was plainly unconstitutional, he, supported by his master, went before the Legislature and demanded and secured its passage. The bill was defeated by an Executive veto, and Holladay built the road without the subsidy. Mitchell's client was so well pleased with his services that he procured the last Legislature to promote the attorney to a seat in the Senate, where, aided by the congenial spirits of Pomeroy and Caldwell, it is supposed his peculiar talents will find ample and remunerative employment.

Such is the man whom the people of Oregon are asked to indorse. It is not possible that they can do it. They have been deceived and grossly insulted by the elevation of this creature to a seat which should be filled by a first-class man. They are not vindictive: neither are they fools, nor such blind partisans as to be misled into voting for a trickster, because he calls himself a Republican. The very acts which are pointed to as evidences of reform, are worse crimes than those which even his friends cannot defend. Bigamy, servility to a selfish monopolist, fraud in politics and legislation! Do such offenses atone for his early sin? If the Convention had been wise, if it had not been fraud itself, it would, at least, have said nothing about this man. But now that they have made his case an issue in the contest, the people owe it to themselves, to the good name of the State, to administer such a rebuke as will make the victim of it seek peace in an ignominious retirement from the high place he now degrades. The candidate upon such a platform ought to be overwhelmingly defeated, and he certainly will be. The only question is whether the Democratic candidate, Nesmith, should be supported or an independent nomination made. As a national organization, the Democratic party is dead, and the sooner it is laid aside everywhere the better. The Republican party in Oregon, as in this State, is demoralized. To those who care more for the future of the country than for party, we submit whether, in view of the next general election, it would not be better to organize immediately and make a direct appeal to the people.

The bigamous Bulletin (happy tautophony!) has hoisted a flag of truce. In yesterday's issue that cutting witticism, "satanic organ," does not once appear. No quarter, neighbor. You are too old in iniquity to attempt a reform at this late day. "Satanic organ!" Let us have it once more—the death-song of that swan-like associate editor.

Ordinance No. 1,380.

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING A LOAN FOR a term of years, providing for the manner of issuing Bonds therefor, and the time and manner of paying the same.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The disastrous fire of August 2, 1873, having rendered necessary certain extraordinary expenditures in connection with the Fire Department in the re-building of Engine Houses, the providing a more efficient system of alarms, and other expenses for which no provision can be made by taxation without great delay; to provide therefor there shall be issued forty (40) bonds in the sum of five hundred dollars each, payable on the first day of May, 1883, with interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually.

Section 2. The bonds mentioned in the foregoing section shall be numbered and entered in proper books in the office of the Auditor, and shall contain a provision pledging the faith of the City to the full payment in United States gold coin, of the principal and interest thereof, at the office of the City Treasurer, at the time or times the same may become due, upon the surrender of such bond, or of the coupon for interest attached thereto.

Section 3. To each of said bonds shall be attached nineteen coupons, bearing the same number as the bond, and representing the interest thereon for each consecutive half year, from the first day of November, 1873, to the first day of May, 1883, and payable on the date therein named at the place and in the manner provided by Section two (2) of this Ordinance.

Section 4. The bonds herein before mentioned shall be signed by the Mayor and attested by the Auditor, and the Auditor and Clerk is hereby authorized to sign the coupons attached thereto.

Section 5. The bonds shall be disposed of in such manner as the Common Council may by ordinance provide.

Passed the Common Council September 10, 1873.
W. S. CALDWELL, Auditor and Clerk.
Approved September 16, 1873.
HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1873.

CITY.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—This evening, at 6 o'clock, will begin the Hebrew festival Yom-ha Kippurim (Day of covering, of seeking protection). It is the last day of the ten days of Penitence initiated by the "Days of Memorial," or of Teruah (of rousing the soul from its slumber to a spiritual revival), commonly called the New Year. The deeper import of the Hebrew name for the festival will appear from the translation given above, it is a day which, if attended with actual amendment (Theshubah) will cover and protect the penitent through the mercy of God. The English name is derived from the obsolete English verb "to be at one," to be reconciled in harmony.

According to the Jewish theology, the reconciliation between the sinner and God is effected without any mediation but regret and amendment on the part of the sinner and the immediate mercy of God, as a merciful father is reconciled to his penitent child, or a master to his penitent and amended servant. This belief they support by the analogy of the natural law, (of a father and son, and a master and servant, just illustrated), impressed in the human heart, which does not ascend to the sacrifice of the innocent for the guilty, to appease an angry deity, and on Scriptural verses like "I delight in mercy and not in sacrifice." Hosea, chapter vi., 6th verse, and Psalmes, chapter xl., 7th and 8th verses, and similar passages.

The whole day is spent in worship; and in truly devoted congregations worship continues uninterrupted through the whole of the twenty-four hours, from eve to eve, and the ten days of penitence are an actual realization of those terms, they are actual days of revival, attended by the three conditions of penitence required by their teachers, viz.: Amendment, Devotion and Acts of Beneficence. These acts are attended with a strict fast from eve to eve on the holiday, and lest the people mistake this fast already as a means of reconciliation and repentance, a lesson from the prophets for the morning service of that solemn day is taken from Isaiah xlvii chapter, 58 verse, a protest against fasting without actual amendment.

HORSE STOLEN.—A gentleman residing in East Portland had a small horse stolen last Sunday under the following circumstances: The gentleman and his wife left home early morning of that day and went several miles out in the country. Three children were left at home, but they also went off to church and were absent several hours. Between the hours of 11 and 12, some thief took a small horse which was grazing in an enclosure near the house, and a saddle and bridle which were hanging in the barn. After catching the animal, the thief went to the barn, opened the door, placed the saddle on the horse's back, and mounting, rode away. When the children returned from church they found to their surprise and childish grief, that the horse, saddle and bridle were gone, the fence torn down in two places, and the barn door left wide open. Nor was the gentleman's astonishment much behind the children when he came back and found the horse was stolen. It was certainly a piece of unparalled boldness for a man to steal a horse, saddle and bridle from a man's yard in broad daylight and on Sunday in the bargain. The surprise and indignation of the family was, however, changed to feelings of joy when, late on Sunday evening, they espied the little animal coming on a full gallop toward home. The horse was covered with foam, sweat and dust, and bore fresh saddle marks. Every appearance indicated that it had been ridden far and hard. It had either escaped from the hands of its captor or had been turned loose on purpose. Neither saddle nor bridle has been recovered, and doubtless never will be. This is, to say the least, a rather bold and cool proceeding.

NEARLY FINISHED.—The assessment rolls for the present fiscal year are almost finished. By this evening, the wearisome task will have been completed, and to-morrow morning one of the copies will be forwarded to Salem to be examined by the Board of Equalization, and the other two are to be placed in the offices of the County Clerk and Sheriff. As the progress made by the Clerks in the preparation of these rolls has from time to time furnished the reporters pabulum with which to satisfy the mental appetites of the average reader, and contributed towards the annihilation of space—the editors' abhorrence and the printers' delight—of course it will be a matter of sincere regret now that the rolls are almost completed. The reportorial fraternity of the city having thoroughly exhausted those three prolific topics—the Court House well, the new dredger, and the assessment rolls—will be compelled, of necessity, to exhume some kindred subject and dispose of it in a similar manner.

REQUESTED TO REPORT.—We are requested to state that all persons who have been vaccinated by Dr. C. C. Strong, will confer a great favor by calling at his office at once and report to him whether or not the vaccination took effect. He was designated some weeks ago by the Board of Health as the physician to whom persons should apply who desired to be vaccinated gratis. During the last six weeks Dr. Strong has vaccinated several hundred persons. He is required to make out an official report to the Common Council, and to be enabled so to do, it will be necessary to have all persons on whom the operation has been performed to call and inform him of the result.

WORK GOING AHEAD.—We are informed by Gen. Sprague, of the Northern Pacific Railroad, that the statement made as to the suspension of work along the line is premature. The work is at present being pushed forward just as it was before the news of the financial crash East was received here. With the exception of grading in the town of Tacoma, there has been no suspension along the road. There have been no regular trains hauled off on account of the news, except, perhaps, the construction trains. Freight is still carried on the passenger trains, as has been the case since the road began operations.

MORE CASTINGS.—In a few days another installment of castings for the State Capitol building will be shipped to Salem from the Willamet Iron Works. A considerable quantity of iron has already been forwarded to Salem. Within the next three weeks, enough castings will be finished to answer for the present year. The brick work will be pushed forward until the rainy season begins, and then suspended until next spring. New contracts will be let for the furnishing of iron for the remainder of the building.

OUT AGAIN.—Charles Williams, who was taken down about five weeks ago with the smallpox, has entirely recovered from that loathsome scourge, and was on the streets yesterday. Charley has experienced a pretty rough time, but the disease has left his face comparatively free from pits. Officer Hudson, who has not been on duty for over two months, in consequence of a severe attack of fever, is again able to be about. He returned a few days since from an invalid tour to Oysterville.

ARRIVED.—Last evening about 9 o'clock, the steamer California arrived at this port from Sitka. Twenty-six days were required to complete the round voyage, including the delay occasioned by waiting for the findings of the court martial, which was held at the military post. Fair weather was experienced during the time the steamer was making the passage. She brought a few passengers and a full freight, consisting of coal, furs, oil, etc.

THANKS.—Our reporter of the Washington County Fair acknowledges himself under obligations to Hon. Joseph Gaston, General Freight and Passenger Agent on the Oregon Central Railroad, for a complimentary pass over the road during the Fair, and to the officers and members of the Washington County Agricultural Society for courtesies and favors shown.

STEAM RAISED.—Steam was raised last evening on board the Beaver for the first time. The shrill whistle woke the echoes along the river, and caused many inquiries as to what the noise could mean. The boiler and hull will probably be inspected to-day, and the trial trip is to come off within a week.

IMMIGRANTS.—On the last steamer about 30 Immigrants arrived in Portland. They came principally from Colorado and Iowa. They remained but a few days in the city and then started for the agricultural regions of Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, with a view of settling on pieces of land.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—Revival services are being held each night during the present week in the Taylor street M. E. Church. A goodly number were present last evening, and an excellent spirit prevailed. These services commence at 7½ o'clock P. M. The public are cordially invited.

DEFERRED.—The tri-weekly trips by the O. S. N. Co. between the Dalles and Wallula, spoken of in Saturday's paper, will not go into effect this week. The Yakima will continue for a time as a special freight boat to bring down wheat.

TESTED.—The boiler of the steam tug Astoria was inspected yesterday by Inspector Lotan. The hull also was inspected by Capt. Flanders. Both the boiler and hull were found in excellent condition, and certificates were accordingly rendered.

THE OREGONIAN IN EAST PORTLAND.—Master Pliny Sawtelle will hereafter carry the OREGONIAN in East Portland. Leave orders for him at the Postoffice, or at this office, and they will be promptly attended to.

BODY FOUND.

Yesterday morning as several Indians were crossing the river about one mile and a half below the city, and opposite the residence of Mr. Guild, they discovered the body of an unknown man floating on the water, with the face upward. The body was near the eastern bank. As the Indians were crossing to the western shore, they tied a small cord to one of the arms and towed the body over. They then notified Mr. Guild of the fact, who after securing the body between two stakes to prevent it from floating off, came to the city, and informed Mr. Dryer, the Coroner. The Coroner proceeded at once to the spot and caused the remains to be removed to the undertakers. A jury was empanneled and an inquest held. From all the facts elicited at the inquest, the circumstances of the case are about as follows:

The man's name was Fuchs; he was a German by birth, and a shoemaker by occupation. For some time past he has been quietly pursuing his business on Front street, next door below the Globe Hotel. Early last week Fuchs appeared unusually depressed in spirits. Several times he was heard, to say that he was wearied of life, and did not wish to live any longer. Last Wednesday he appeared more despondent than ever. Some time during the afternoon of that day he came to his wife and delivered into her possession a bunch of keys and all the money he had on his person. He appeared considerably excited, and told his wife that he was going away, and she would see him no more. The wife was frightened at his strange behavior and mysterious hints, and sent another person to keep a close watch on his movements. This persons followed Fuchs for a long distance down the river—below the sawmill—but he at length lost track of him and returned. Since that time until the body was discovered yesterday morning, nothing was heard of or seen of the missing man.

Dr. Strong, who was summoned, made a careful examination of the body; but he discovered no external indications of violence, with the exception of a slight contusion between the eyes, where the skin was broken. Both hands were found tightly clasped across his breast. It was thought that Fuchs, after wandering about for a time, took some kind of poison with a view to self-destruction, and then laid down near the water's edge and died. When the tide came up the body was floated off. The position of the arms and hands would indicate that he had died tranquilly. Every circumstance of the case, coupled with his threats and mental condition, leaves little doubt but what it was an instance of deliberate suicide. Exposure to the water, and the time which has elapsed since death, rendered the body unfit for sight, being in an advanced stage of decomposition. Deceased is said to have been a member of the Order of Druids. So far as is known, he was steady and industrious in his habits.

The following is the verdict of the jury:

We, the jury called to examine into the cause of the death of a person here before us, find, from the evidence, that his name is W. Fuchs, and that he is about 27 years of age; a German by birth, and that he came to his death by accidental drowning.

PERSONAL.

Prof. C. B. Plummer is on the Sound.

T. A. Savier, Esq., is still confined to his room with sickness.

Col. Chris. Taylor paid Portland a flying visit on Sunday. He returned home yesterday.

Hugh Small, Esq., traveling correspondent for various journals, has returned from an extended trip to British Columbia and the Sound.

Mr. Buchanan who was taken sick some days ago, while superintending the operations of the new dredger, is again able to resume his duties.

Mr. S. B. Parrish, who has been in this city for some weeks on business connected with the Malheur Indian Reservation, of which he is agent, will take his departure for his field of labor on next Saturday.

We are informed that Capt. J. C. Ainsworth is now in San Francisco, having arrived from the East a few days ago. If the report is true Captain Ainsworth will be among the passengers that will sail for Portland next Saturday.

Judge M. P. Deady left this city last Saturday en route for Victoria. He goes on a brief pleasure trip, and will return in a few days. In consequence of his absence the United States Circuit Court adjourned yesterday morning until next Monday. For a like reason the U. S. District Court will adjourn to-day until the 6th of October.

Mrs. B A Chamberlain will prove the correctness of her teachings by holding a public circle at the Court House, on Tuesday evening, the 30th inst. Admission, 50 cents, to all who are able to pay.

MILITARY NOTES.

Major N. Michler, who has been ordered to Portland to relieve Major H. M. Robert, will probably take passage on the next steamer for this city.

Colonel H. C. Hodges, formerly stationed at this place, has been assigned to duty as Chief Quartermaster of the Department of the Gulf, headquarters in New Orleans.

Major Eggleston, who went to Sitka on the last steamer, stopped at Victoria when the vessel touched at that port on her return He will probably come through overland

The steamer California, which arrived here last evening, brought back Capt Hoyt, Maj Harris and Capt. Sanborn, who were ordered to Sitka some time ago to perform court martial duty, Second Lieut. H. Paddock, of the Fourth Artillery, has received orders to proceed by the next steamer to Sitka, Alaska Territory, to report for duty to the commanding officer at that post.

Lieut. George S. Hoyle, of the First Cavalry, has received orders from Gen Davis to report to the commanding officer at Fort Vancouver, to conduct recruits to Fort Klamath, the present station of his company.

Second Lieut. Louis P. Brant reported a few days since in person at the Headquarters of the Department of the Columbia, being en route to join his company. He was ordered by Gen. Davis to report to-day (30th) for temporary duty to the commanding officer at Fort Vancouver.

Orders have been issued by Gen. Davis to the effect that the Subsistence Department is authorized to receive at Fort Klamath, and pay at contract rates for 16,000 pounds of flour, in addition to the quantity named in the contract, that quantity having been reported as insufficient to supply the wants of the post.

First Lieutenant Peter Leary, Jr., of the Fourth Artillery, is appointed to act as inspector on certain clothing, camp and garrison equipage, ordnance and ordnance stores, at Fort Stevens, for which Capt. Marcus P. Miller, of the Fourth Artillery, is responsible, reported on the 23d inst., as requiring the action of an inspector.

The following contracts have been awarded parties, by Col. Bachelder, Chief Quartermaster, for the furnishing of supplies for the military post at Walla Walla: Mr Louis Sahns, the contract of furnishing 600,000 pounds of hay, at $17 per ton; Thomas Hardman, the contract for furnishing 1,000,000 pounds of oats at 1¼ cents per pound, and also 700,000 pounds of hay at $17 10 per ton.

The leave of absence of four months granted Col. David Taggart before his departure for the East expired on the 20th inst. In a telegraphic dispatch from Washington to the New York Times, of a recent date, it is stated that the resignation tendered by Col. Taggart on the 17th of September, had been accepted at the Department. As the furlough expired on the 20th of the month, it is quite probable that Colonel Taggart's resignation took effect on that date. His numerous friends and admirers here will regret to learn of his action, as he will in all probability never have occasion to visit Portland again.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Read the card of Mr. S. W. Raveley, who has located at 105 First street, where he will attend to the collection of accounts, rents and look up business for interior papers.

Removals seem to be in order, and now we are called upon to mention Parrish, Watkins & Cornell, real estate, collection and house-renting agents, who have removed to Corbett's building. Front street, second door north of Alder. They will attend to any business entrusted to them with promptness and dispatch. Recollect the place.

NEW OPENING.—Messrs. Hurgren & Shindler have opened at the corner of Front and Alder streets. A full stock of furniture, etc., on hand—more being added daily.

The political cauldron is boiling, but amid the excitement attending the present canvass, our merchants are laying in large stocks of fall and winter goods. Among the number, we observed yesterday Messrs. BECK & WALDMAN opening several cases of men and boys' clothing. The new hat for boys is nobby. They keep them, as well as other goods for youths. Be sure and call to day.

For Bronchial, Asthmatic and Pulmonary Complaints "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES," manifest remarkable curative properties.

No one should neglect a cough. It is suicide. Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY will cure you. Thousands attest its wonderful power. Coughs, colds, bronchitis and consumption give way before this great purifier.

VICTIMS OF OBSCURE DISEASE, seeking safety and restored health, should use Dr. Helmbold's Extract Buchu. This article is officinal and standard. It is, moreover, the only preparation that develops the full value of Buchu as a diruetic. It is a perfect specific for all diseases of the urinary organs in male or female. Beware of counterfeits and imitations, which unscrupulous men are endeavoring to palm off upon Dr. Helmbold's reputation. Look for the Doctor's signature on the wrapper.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cough or cold, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience

The Tonic of the Period.

This is a trying season to persons deficient in stamina and out of health. To rally their physical energies by the most approved artificial means is a duty they owe to themselves. Foremost among the tonics and alteratives of the age stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a vegetable stimulant and corrective, against which no tenable objection can be urged. There is no risk in recommending it as the best preparation in existence for renovating an enfeebled and broken down system. The most valuable medicinal products that nature has ever yielded to botanical research are blended in this famous elixer, and its stimulating basis is recognized in our public hospitals as the purest of all varieties of distilled liquors. For general debility, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, billiousness and intermittent fevers it is a positive specific.

BILLIARDS.

EXTRAORDINARY PLAYING.

The European correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives a most remarkable account of scientific billiard playing witnessed by him at Ostend. He says:

Next we have the great professor of billiards from Paris, M. Desire, who gives seances and plays the most remarkable games. I have just witnessed two games between him and M Richard—also a famous billiard-player of Paris—and certainly these men do very wonderful things. Those who are used to American and English tables with their pockets, are apt to conclude at first sight that the French game, which has neither winning nor losing hazards, but only caroms, lacks variety, and allows less range to the player. But if such could have seen M. Desire and M. Richard in their encounter, they would admit that the French game is sufficient to tax every sense and faculty which can be implicated in the game of billiards. The great fort of M. Desire is his making his ball run backward, either straight or at any angle he pleases, so that when his ball is immediately between the red and his opponent's, he rarely or never fails to make it go and hit the one, and then travel back by the same path, and (passing the point from which he started) go and hit the other. Another wonderful thing he does is this: When the three balls are in a row—almost touching each other—the player's ball being at one end of the series, most persons would dismiss the idea of securing a carom as simply impossible. But it is a situation in which M. Desire never fails to score. He hits his ball so as to make it run quite around the ball next to it—without touching it—and then curve back again and strike the two balls. To send his ball flying about from cushion to cushion until it strikes another at the exact point needed to throw it on the other, is such an easy and frequent stroke that the Professor hardly takes an interest in it. Among various fancy strokes which he showed us, was to shoot all three balls in succession into the mouth of a basket, just large enough to receive a ball—the basket being held six or seven inches above the cloth. Another was to place a hat in the middle of the table with a ball beside it; the third ball being placed against the cushion from which he plays, at his left hand; he then sends his ball against that beside the hat, so as to make it go completely around the hat and come all the way back to strike that which is at his left hand against the cushion. M. Desire is undoubtedly the finest billiard player on the Continent of Europe. He is a large, fat man, over fifty years of age, with a somewhat bald head, grand brow, and eyes framed in curious lines, as if every muscle and ligament about them had been for years made to do duty in giving him the greatest exactness of vision. He plays equally well with the left hand as with the right, and the precision with which he strikes a ball from above, indicates that he has pursued billiards, as Charles Lamb would say, as other men pursue virtue.

A RAILROAD WAR IN MAINE.

THE EASTERN AND MAINE CENTRAL LINES IN CONFLICT WITH THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—FORCE AND STRATEGY.

A Portland (Me.) dispatch to the New York Herald says under date of Sept. 17th:

A railroad war prevails in this section which excites much attention throughout the Northeast. The Eastern and Maine Central lines are in active hostility with the Boston and Maine Railroad. The latter claims a right of connection under the laws of the State and the former refuse it. A large force of men from the Boston and Maine inserted a "frog" last night, and the people on the other side tore it out. When the morning passenger train from the Grand Trunk backed down, the locomotive that was lying on the track where the frog had been taken out, backed down on a wharf, and before the frog could be again inserted the locomotive came back behind a train, so that the Boston and Maine was blocked. There was a large crowd of interested spectators, railroad employes and idlers gathered around. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Grand Trunk had the right to the track, and the trains had passed from the upper depot to the Grand Trunk, Superintendent Furber, of the Boston and Maine, stepped to the engineer of the locomotive that was stationary on the track, and ordered him to take his engine out of the way. The engineer responded that his orders were to remain where he was. Immediately several stalwart men jumped into the cab of the engine and backed it out of the way, while another force of men sprang to the switches above and below and spiked them, another force proceeding to replace the frog. This work was all completed by a quarter to three o'clock P. M. Immense crowds of people covered the piles of lumber and surrounded the scene of action. When the last spike was driven a band that had been sent to the spot by the friends of the road struck up a lively air and the crowd gave three enthusiastic cheers. Injunctions were served at 11 o'clock. There is a strong force of employes present, as well as a large number of excited citizens. Several locomotives stand near at hand on both lines; some of them with platform cars in front of them. No further demonstrations are anticipated of a hostile nature, but both sides are active and vigilant.

PLAGUE-STRICKEN SHREVEPORT.

MORTALITY IN THE TELEGRAPH OFFICE—HEART-RENDING SUFFERING.

The General Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Louisville sent the following dispatch to President Orton yesterday.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 16.—When the fever made its appearance at Shreveport we had there two operators, beside the manager. One left immediately, Geo. I. Rae, manager, and Thomas M. Jackson, operator, remained at their posts till stricken down. Mr. Jackson died on Saturday and Mr. Rae on yesterday. Operator Buchanan of Meriden tendered his services, and reached Shreveport on Wednesday, but when Mr. Rae was taken sick on Thursday, Mr. Buchanan returned home and is now ill there. Operator H. C. Davis came from New Orleans on Sunday, and is at the present time alone on duty in the Shreveport office. Our repairer has the fever, but will probably recover. Alfred Saville, although unacclimated, has gone to help Davis, and will probably reach Shreveport to-night. Rae and Jackson are supposed to have been the main supports of their respective families. Rae's father is an invalid, and Jackson's mother is a widow. Our banker, Mr. George N. Pike, and operator Davis did all they could for the relief of Mr. Rae. Jackson died before Davis reached there, but he received kind attention from Mr. Pike. Nearly all who were able to leave the town have left but there are fully 600 cases there now, and the number of people who are well is not sufficient to take care of the sick. The fever is unusually fatal, and it is believed by many to be the Mexican vomito, and to have been introduced by the employes of the Transatlantic Circus. It attacked three persons who had yellow fever in Shreveport in 1867. Contributions are coming in slowly from all parts of the country. Physicians and nurses are badly needed. The condition of the town is simply heartrending, and the suffering is something fearful to contemplate.—N. Y. Tribune, Sept 17th

Emil, Lowenstein & Co., recently burned out by the great fire, have removed their Stock of Carpets, Curtains, Coverings, etc. to No. 87 FRONT STREET, between Washington and Alder where they can be found selling off the entire Stock AT COST, in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS
Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound ... of Eucalyptus is a preparation con... ing all the valuable medical qualities ... the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for ... become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY ... and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and ... properties more ... than any other known remedy.
It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and ... membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.
This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal pro... of the tree in the U. S. SALUTE MILITES.

[Poem read at the seventh annual reunion of the Army of the Cumberland by Col H hard Realf of the Pittsburgh Commercial staff]

Welcome! And when we say it, we pack our hearts in the saying
Just as we did in the days war-crested flaming and thunderous,
When half the people were fighting and half the people were praying
And slowly from crimson quags the grain te of Peace rose under us

Ah, those were lofty days when straight through our rainoing and canting
The Soul of the Nation flashed and gripped the hilt of its brand
And drained its alms like wine and strode forth kindled and panting
Hewing in forests of lies clear space for the Truth to stand

Ah, those were mighty days Mighty for stress and for sorrow
And mighty for regnant Manhood that turned them to glory and gain
What would have been the gust of Humanity's crowned to-morrow
Save for our yesterdays of tribulant passion and pain?

Save for the vivid swords which our reverent hearths are keeping—
Save for the eloquent guns that held high faith with the State—
Save for the heroes that sleep and those who pass to their sleeping—
Save for the dead that are shrined and the living who calmly wait?

This is our time of thrift of Commerce and Art and Science—
And Nature our nursing mother healeth the hurts
 of war
But the lustre-lights of our years are the sacrificial giants
Who clave our blackness asunder and beaconed us where we are.

Y as, pal d Titan of Battle and SHERIDAN
 Wrath's archangel,
And him whose Cosmic pulse not Chaos itself could shake
And Uncas-like SHERMAN who spurred with the cen tury's sharp evangel
Into our centuried drowse, and clarioned Sloth awake—

And Hooker, climbing the clouds when his quarry
 perched above him,
And Thomas, Disciple of Duty—(our hearts bend over his grave)—
And the splendid—the true
 Heavens guard him and love him—
And the kings of the ranks—the vast,
 leal led brave—

Living or dead, Earth thrills with their luminous sense of spirit
. . . or dead, their blood hath entered into our
. . . the nebulous stars of the pinnacled
. . . it hear it—
. . . in uttermost parts its august influ ence reign

. . . are our . . . and speces? LEONIDAS

ROYAL JEWEL BOX, MENTIONED IN THE ILIAD
—DISCOVERY OF KING PRIAM'S TREASURES
AT THE SACK OF TROY

The Augsburg Gazette publishes a letter of Dr . . . Schliemann, who for the last three . . . has been occupied with excavations on the site of Ilium. It is dated Troy, July 17, . . . information of very great import- . . . on the latest results of his . . . We extract the following from Schlie- . . . letter:

. . . of this month, as I was . . . of 8½ metres (27 feet 10 . . . circuit wall of Troy, . . . north . . . by . . . and . . . recently in the . . . of Priam's palace I . . . of singular form, . . . on it . . . On this was built a . . . and 8 . . . high . . . and clay, and . . . to the . . . immediately fol- . . . of Troy. To . . . the . . . work . . . and . . . the . . . ut- . . . and although it was . . . I ordered them at . . . and . . . I cut out . . . with a knife, a feat not to . . . and . . . the . . . fortified wall, . . . to topple over . . . But the . . . of so many . . . of which is of incalculable . . . made me foolhardy, and I . . . without the . . . have been im- . . . off the . . . She . . . to put the objects I dug out . . . her shawl and to convey them to a place . . . The object which I had first seen . . . large, flat copper dish of the form of a . . . It is 49 centimetres in diameter, is . . . and surrounded by a rim 4 centime- . . . In all probability it is a shield. The . . . which I brought to light was a . . . kettle with two horizontal handles. . . . was a long plate of copper . . . a rim 2 millimetres in height. A . . . 12 centimetres high is soldered on . . . fourth object was a copper vase . . . perfectly round bottle of the . . . gold. Around it run a partially finished . . . A heavy goblet, also of the . . . gold, and another gold drinking vessel . . . of a ship, with two large handles, . . . weighs . . . exactly 600 grammes . . . avoirdupois). On the one side there . . . for drinking 7 centimetres in . . . the opening on the other side meas- . . . but three centimetres Perhaps, accord- . . . to the . . . of Priam or Stephanos . . . of Athens, the host drank first . . . the small opening, while the guest as a . . . of honor, was invited to drink from the . . .

The . . . likewise contains a small goblet . . . alloyed with 25 per cent. of silver, . . . foot only . . . two centimetres in . . . and 24 centimetres in breadth More- . . . It is not entirely straight, and seems to . . . only in an inverted position . . . six pieces of an alloy of gold . . . silver hammered into the form of large . . . one end of which was round the other . . . into the shape of a crescent In all . . . are the Homeric talents, which . . . have been small, since, for instance, . . . (Il., xxiii , 260), propose as the first . . . in the funeral contest a female slave, as . . . second prize a horse, as the third a kettle, . . . as the fourth two talents of gold I also . . . three large silver vases all are . . . below, and must have rested against . . . thing I also found there a silver goblet, a silver bowl, and two beautifully worked silver . . . The larger vase has two little . . . on . . . side and was hung up by a string . . . through the tubes Partly on top of, . . . next to the articles above mentioned I found thirteen copper lance-heads. At their . . . end may be seen a hole, in which in most . . . the nail or pin by means of which the . . . had been fastened to the wooden shaft was inserted. The Trojan spears, there- fore, differed . . . from the Roman and Greek, for the Trojan stuck the shaft into the . . . the Greeks and Romans the spear- . . . into the shaft

I also found fourteen of the copper weapons so frequently occurring here, and never met with . . . where, which while almost pointed at the one end develope at the other into a broad b . . . I formerly considered them to be a pe- culiar kind of spear, but am now convinced that they can have been nothing but battle axes Moreover I discovered seven large dou- ble edged copper daggers Only one ordinary single-edged knife was found among these treas- . . . I also found the fragment of a sword as well as a four-cornered copper bar, with a sharp edge, which must certainly have served as a weapon As I found all the above-men- tioned objects together or packed the one into the other on the city wall which according to Homer, was built by Neptune and Apollo it seems certain that they lay in a wooden box which is mentioned in the Iliad as existing in Priam's palace This appears the more un- doubted as I found next to the articles a cop- per key ten and a half centimetres in length the key-bit being five centimetres square The key itself bears very considerable likeness to the large safe keys used in banks Strange to say, this key had a wooden handle This is proved by the end of the handle which as in the case of the daggers, is bent at right angles Probably the treasure was hastily stowed away into the box by some member of Priam's fami- ly, who carried it away without having time to withdraw the key On the wall he was over- taken either by the enemy or by the fire, and was compelled to abandon the chest, which was immediately buried to the depth of five or six feet under the red ashes and the stones of the adjoining palace That the treasure was packed away at the risk of life and amidst fear and trembling is shown by the contents of the largest silver vase at whose bottom I found two magnificent golden head bands and one frontlet, and four splendid most artistic ear pendants of gold On these lay fifty six golden ear rings of most singular design and thous- ands of very small rings dice buttons &c all made of gold which were evidently detached from the jewelry Then followed six golden bracelets and on the top were placed the two small golden goblets The one head band measures 1 centimetres (20 inches) and con sists of a golden chain from each side of which hang down eight chains 39 centimetres (15 inches) long, which are covered entirely with small golden leaves to cover the temples At the end of these sixteen chains hangs an idol 3½ centimetres (1½ inches) in length adorned with the owl's head of the goddess patron of Ilion Between these pendents for adorning the temples may be seen seventy four chains also covered with leaves and 10 centimetres (4 inches in length destined to hang over the forehead To each is attached a doub'e leaf 2 centimetres (2 inch) long Of the six brace lets two are entirely plain closed and 1 milli- metres (1 6 inch thick The third is also closed but consists of a decorated band, 1 millimetre in thickness and 7 millimetres broad The remaining three are double and are bent at the ends and adorned with heads

The fifty six other ear rings are of various sizes and three of them seem to have been worn as finger rings also by the royal prin cesses Above the ear rings in the silver vases were laid a number of ornaments strung on strings or fastened to leather for on and be- neath them I found as mentioned above, thousands of small golden articles viz rings &c The person who attempted to save the treasure luckily had the presence of mind to place the silver vase with the valuables I have described, in the chest in an upright position, so that not a single pearl fell out, and every- thing has remained unharmed

GENERAL NOTES

The hay seed politicians have heard of hay fever, and one of them down in Illinois learn edly remarked, in the course of an eloquent harangue that "hay should be thoroughly dried in the sun before stacking—when prop erly cured it never has the fever

Bean the conductor on whom rests the blame for the terrible railroad disaster in Illi nois a few weeks since has been released on $10,000 bail The detective, Miller, who cap- tured him, after receiving the 1,000 offered by the Chicago and Alton Railroad, immediately gave $800 of the amount to the wife of the conductor for the support of herself and chil- dren

From Liege comes the report of a duel such as Charles Lever might have narrated from his active imagination Some German officers, dining at a restaurant, grew impatient at a dilatory service, and one of them exclaimed "Are there no French officers to wait on us" Instantly a Captain in the Belgian Guards, of Irish descent, took up the insult and said though there might be no French officers pres ent, there were Belgians, ready to guard the honor of their brethren in arms A meeting followed, and the German was shot through the brain

The British oil painters, whose works have gained for them art medals at the Vienna Ex- position, were Sir E Landseer Mrs Ward, Messrs P Calderon, A Elmore S L Fildes, W P Frith, P Graham, J E Hodgson, J C Hook, J C Horsley, F Leighton, John F Lewis, J E Millais Erskine Nicoll, W Q Or chardson, John Pettie, B Riviere, Marcus Stone and J D Watson. The water-color paint- ers thus distinguished were the late Mr W W Deane, Sir John Gilbert, Messrs. Birket Foster, Carl Haag, E J Poynter, Collingwood Smith, F. Taylor, F. W. Topham and F Walker

A JURY INCREASING DAMAGES WHICH THE COURT HAD TWICE DECIDED EXCESSIVE —Bos- ton, Sept. 10 —A decision has been given by the Massachusetts Supreme Court, after three years litigation, in the following interesting case In April, 1870, the boiler of the engine Concord exploded, severely injur- ing the engineer, Charles B. Ford, who insti tuted suit against the Fitchburg Railroad Company, and the case was tried at the No- vember term of the Superior Court. The jury awarded $4,000 to the plaintiff but the verdict was set aside by the Court on the ground that the damages were excessive. The suit was again tried in June, 1871, and a verdict was awarded for the plaintiff in the sum of $5,375 This verdict was set aside by Chief Justice Brigham, and the case was again tried at the November term in the same year The trial lasted four days, and the jury found for the plaintiff, the amount being fixed at $6,835 32. Judge Scudder refused to set the verdict aside and the case went up to the Supreme Court on exceptions The Supreme Court overruled the exceptions and Mr Ford will recover the last- named sum with costs

HUMMING-BIRD DUEL.—The other day, as A T Clearwater, of this city, was coming down East Front street, he witnessed a novel battle in the yard opposite the Persbyterian church Two green-backed humming-birds were the com- batants, and the fray lasted seventeen minutes The tiny antagonists would dart on each other most viciously would soar twenty feet or more in the air, and then return to the flowers in the beds for a moment or two, where the war fare raged most bitterly Occasionally the lar ger would pin the smaller to the ground when the latter would strike vigorously at the throat of its foe Finally the larger bird apparently became very much enraged and made an en ergetic spurt. The other fell to the ground its wings fluttered the body quivered, one quick gasp and the ruby throated little one was dead The victor flew to a dead twig on a neighboring shrub, smoothed its ruffled plum age as a dove would, and twisted its neck from side to side then for a moment hovering over the lifeless enemy as if to be certain life was extinct, it flew swiftly away —Kingston (N. Y) Freeman August 5

SOMETHING VERY LIKE HEROISM.—The Chi- cago Tribune tells of one of the victims by the Lemont collision, who can certainly be said to have shown clear grit It was a Mr Lettle of Springfield, who, while in the agony of death, sent for the sleeping car conductor told him his name, made his will and signed it, and handed over his watch and jewelry to be sent to his wife and family, and then request- ed the conductor to leave him and help those to whom help would be of avail That man was of the heroic mould He was horribly scalded, boiled and mutilated and yet he would not die until he had performed his last duty like a man In this terrible retrospect it is gratifying to contemplate such instances as we have cited It proves once more that in the presence of these great catastrophes as high a nobility of character and as chivalrous a degree of purpose may be developed as the world's battle fields have ever shown or the pages of history have recorded

HOW GREENBACK PAPER IS MADE —All the paper for the money issued by the United States Government is manufactured on a sixty two-inch Fourdrinier machine at the Glen Mills near West Chester Pa Short pieces of red silk are mixed with the pulp in the en gine, and the finished stuff is conducted to the wire without passing through any screens which might retain the silk threads By an arrangement above the wire cloth a shower of short pieces of fine blue silk thread is dropped in streaks upon the paper while it is being formed The upper side on which the blue silk is dropped is the one used for the face of the notes and from the manner in which the threads are applied must show them more dis tinctly than the reverse side although they are imbedded deeply enough to remain fixed The mill is guarded by officials night and day to prevent the abstraction of any paper

TO THE UNFORTUNATE,

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospi- tals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dis- pensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those re- quiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suf- fering

Horrible Di . . .

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they . . . until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, at- tend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his . . . study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is im- portant to those who are afflicted, or to those who- are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who . . . all cities, publishing their skill in curing all . . . in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certain- ty, the following train of morbid symptoms, un- combatted by scientific medical measures viz. Sal- low countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new ac- quaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various erup- tions about the face, furred tongue, fetid . . . coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effect- ing a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove sat- isfactorily to him that he was cured of this com- plaint by either of the San Francisco quacks Married . . .

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are la- boring under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain . . . relief

DR. GIBBON is . . . and will give to a patient a written . . . binding him . . . to ef- fect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at H . . .

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating the case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Post office or through Wells, Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the U . . .

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pre- tenders who, with bogus diplomas or certificates, . . . the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, barbers, carriers, "intelligence office" keepers, etc The way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting false titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat disease that he . . . to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street cor- ner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box . . .

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LET- TER Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIB- BON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN
